

GAMBOA GIBES AT WILSON'S MESSAGE

Says Mexico Has Not Notified Her Citizens to Return from United States Lest They Be Lynched—Asks Whether Anyone Has Seen Any Mexican Mobs Chasing the Gringos.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
MEXICO CITY, August 29.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The fact that a wholesale exodus of Americans from Mexico is following the advice of President Wilson does not seem to impress Foreign Minister Gamboa, who says that "if it is true, we must, with all due respect to the President of the United States, say that we think he acted prematurely."

He continued: "Do they think we are brigands in Mexico? Have you seen any mobs chasing Americans through streets, or any unfriendly manifestations, even by the people of the lower class? We have four or five hundred thousand Mexicans in the United States. We have made no suggestion to them to return, in the belief that they might be lynched. "I am told that boats are coming to the ports to take off the Americans. If the Americans were perishing throughout the country I could see why boats would come to take away their bodies, but I can see no reason for them to come."

"Even in the case of intervention, I think that Americans would be safe. During French intervention, Frenchmen came and went at will and were not molested."

WARSHIPS TO GO FOR REFUGEES

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, August 29.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The government intends to carry out literally the suggestions in President Wilson's message that aid will be afforded to all Americans who desire to leave Mexico.

Consular agents and other representatives of the department of state will provide money where it is necessary and the warships of the United States will also, if necessary, be utilized to carry Americans away from Mexico.

The United States will not make any formal offer to the citizens of other countries residing in Mexico, because the President does not think it would be desirable on our part to do so, but this government will extend its aid whenever requested either by individual citizens of other countries or by foreign governments.

Diplomatic Optimism.

While President Wilson and Secretary Bryan state that the outlook is encouraging, their optimism would appear diplomatic rather than actual. The ordinary observer reads one or two things into the latest developments. He assumes that the notes are merely a process of Mexican diplomacy and are for the purpose of temporizing and putting off the evil day as far as possible without conceding anything that is demanded or without committing Huerta to any definite position. He may take the other view that these new notes indicate a tendency to accept the suggestions of President Wilson and that Huerta and his advisors are preparing to climb down.

It is too early to determine which of these interpretations will prove correct. In the mean time President Wilson will see to it that the embargo on arms and ammunition will be a real one.

"political machine" by Senator Hitchcock, one of the Democrats who refused to be bound by the caucus on the features of the Tariff Bill, marked today's reopening of the fight over the income tax.

"Why should senators be expected to be bound by the hasty decisions of a secret caucus on details of the income tax?" demanded Hitchcock. "Why should they be expected to vote down every amendment, however good, simply because it comes from the other side of the chamber?"

"Why should the income tax section not be amended here on the floor of the senate, if debate convinces senators that it should be?"

is now disposed to accept most of President Wilson's proposals to secure peace.

MEXICO CITY, August 29.—(Associated Press Cable to The Star-Bulletin.)—That Gen. Victoriano Huerta will insist upon being a candidate for President at the general elections in October was indicated today when the daily newspaper of the capital came out with declarations that President Wilson's message has crystallized Huerta's popularity. The papers say that the message, however, and ensures his candidacy, intimating that he is willing to run at the election.

"Woman With a Serpent's Tongue" Proves That She Also Has a Ready Fist---Fights Suffragettes

When Female Hoodlums Attack the Premier, His Daughter Flies Into Them for a Few Lively Moments—Asquith Too Polite to Hit Back.

ELGIN, Scotland, August 29.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The British prime minister was the object of an attack yesterday in which his civility restrained him from adequately defending himself.

While he was golfing with his daughter, two stout suffragettes sprang at him suddenly. They knocked off his hat and dragged him some distance over the ground. The prime minister bore the rough treatment complacently, refraining from using force to make them desist, while they imparted to him their opinion that he was a scoundrel and a past master in the arts of Ananias.

Miss Asquith, who was a little distance off when the suffragettes pounced on her father, ran to his assistance and proceeded to apply militant methods to the militants. The battle waged only for a few moments, when three detectives rushed up and with difficulty released Mr. Asquith from the clutches of the suffragettes.

The detectives took the women to the Elgin police station, where they refused to give their names or addresses. Mr. Asquith resumed play and was loudly cheered when he reached the last green.

It is said the promoters will meet Willie's demands and that he is to receive $10,000 for this bout.

JOY-RIDERS STEAL UNDERTAKER'S VAN

SEATTLE, August 29.—Reports of stolen automobiles for joy riding purposes are a frequent occurrence at police headquarters, but the report that capped the climax was received last night, when the driver of the dead wagon for the Rosenberg Undertaking Company complained to the police that some one had stolen his team and wagon.

He left the team and wagon standing for a few minutes at First Avenue and Pike street last night, and when he returned the horses and wagon were gone. He heard rumors among the crowd that a bunch of convivial youths had driven off with the grim equipage, but was unable to obtain a description.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—In a statement now in the hands of Representative Britten of Chicago, member of the house naval affairs committee, it is asserted that the plans of the Japanese admiralty regarding an overwhelming navy have been changed somewhat to meet the straitened exchequer of the Island Empire, but that the legislature of Japan has been urged to build a fleet which will easily dominate the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Britten is in possession of a copy of a news article from the Asahi, a Tokyo newspaper, in which it is asserted a full report is given of the appearance of Admiral Takarabe, vice-minister of the navy, before a subcommittee of the lower house budget committee of Japan.

It was proposed originally to increase the present number of battleships in each squadron from six to eight. Eight battleships would have been necessary to effect this, and in addition it would have been necessary to build eight cruisers, sixteen scout cruisers and forty-eight destroyers, costing a total of $54,000,000.

The present budget therefore provides for the construction of three dreadnoughts of the most powerful type and for the eventual carrying out of a scheme for eight dreadnoughts, for twelve cruisers, eight scouts and forty destroyers at a cost of $182,500,000.

Miss Violet Asquith, Who Fought Two Suffragettes—Premier Asquith (Below) the Object of the Assault and Rescue.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, August 29.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The administration Currency Bill was finally approved by the house Democratic caucus last night by a vote of 163 to 9. The nine against it were Representatives Henry, Eagle, Calaway of Texas, Hardwick of Georgia, Lobeck of Nebraska, Buchanan and Fowler of Illinois, Neely of Kansas and Sisson of Mississippi.

After agreeing to the bill, the caucus adopted a resolution by an almost unanimous vote declaring the bill to be a party measure and that members of this caucus are pledged for the bill on its final passage without amendment, provided, however, the banking and currency committee may offer amendments in the house.

The feature of the session was the adoption of a committee amendment as a substitute for the section on bank reserves which, in effect, simply serves to clarify the section as originally drawn.

The measure was reintroduced in the house by Chairman Glass, referred immediately to the banking and currency committee, which will meet next Tuesday. It is expected the bill will be at once reported back to the house, which Glass predicts will pass it within ten days, many Republicans having indicated their purpose of supporting it.

GOOD SHIP "PIFFLE" OFF FOR A CRUISE

WASHINGTON, August 29.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—Indication that the Mexican crisis has passed was seen here today in the departure of Secretary of State Bryan to lecture to Chautauques at Doylestown and Kennett Square, Pennsylvania. Bryan will leave tomorrow for Oxford, Pennsylvania and Belair, Maryland.

On Monday morning was enacted another chapter of the long series of murders, suicides, etc., that have for some months past been prevalent on this peaceful Maui Isle, reports the Weekly News of Wailuku.

A Japanese woman, wife of Kazumoto, the prominent Japanese wrestler, employed by the Kahului Railroad Company put an end to her earthly existence by plunging a long butcher knife in her throat. The wound was a horrible one, and she most have died immediately from its effects. When found, the knife was still in her throat, tightly clutched in her hand.

The woman, who had come to the Islands from Japan to meet her husband about three years ago, had been in poor health for some time, and was very anxious to return to her own country. Her husband, however, had asked her to wait until he had made a little more money here, when they would both return together. The couple had some words on Monday, and evidently the woman had alienated the matter to her mind until she was crazed and determined upon taking the rash step.

MILITIA TEAM IN 29TH PLACE

Clopton, Jr., Thirteenth Cavalry, winning first place with a score of 2675. The navy team finished second with 2655 and that of the Oregon National Guard was third with 2605.

Big Crowd Sees Finals on Moana Courts—Major Outplayed and Outgeneraled Eklund—Latter Put Up a Plucky Fight for the Title, Nevertheless.

(From Saturday Advertiser.)
Fast, interesting and well-played tennis enthused several hundred people at the Moana tennis courts yesterday afternoon during the playing of the final match for the Inter-Island tennis championship, with C. A. Major, the Hilo crack, opposed to W. Eklund, the Ewa star, the former proving a winner in three straight sets, the score being 6-2, 6-4 and 6-1.

It was a non-partisan crowd in one sense of the word, and as far as the applause was concerned each of the players for the cup received generous treatment. Honolulu folks are keen to recognize grit and skill in athletic events and, no matter where the heart may be, they never fail to show their appreciation of what a contestant is doing.

The crowd was large and representative, many of the best known society ladies being among the applauders. Before the match the club house and along the side lines. A long line of automobiles filled in along the boulevard, beneath the coconut palms.

Ideal weather prevailed, just the right kind to bring out the crowd in their gowns, wraps and feathers. It was a pretty sight, all this gathering of youth and beauty in the beautiful Moana grounds. The two players were filled with pepper and ginger so necessary when skill is called to pit itself against skill. It was a case of plucky youth against mature skill and judgment, with the sympathy of the onlookers for the Ewaite, but with everything pointing to victory for the Cornell champion, who, for this occasion, upheld the claims of Hilo for the championship.

There were many more women than men present and they were liberal in their applause. Many a glove was split or a parasol broken when some fair damsel saw that her favorite had served well or stopped a rally which might have been dangerous. The chances to cheer Eklund, though, soon vanished, for with the first set half under way it was seen that the Hilo man had too much experience. In fact he simply outclassed his younger opponent at every angle of the game.

Major showed remarkable readiness all through the contest. He started a bit poorly, but in a few moments pulled himself together and from then on simply outplayed and outgeneraled the youngster from Ewa. Eklund started the game confidently, hitting the ball hard and well as stopping some of the well-placed shots of the Hilo man. This did not last long, for Major soon tightened up and began playing to his true form. Major took the first game easily by a score of 6-2.

In the second set Eklund did a little better and his serving showed some improvement, but while he improved the Hilo man improved too, and the second set was his by a score of 6-3.

With the match best three out of five, Eklund showed a dash of speed in the opening of the third set, and for a few moments hard-pressed his man. Major, though, was cool and collected and soon was playing a faster, steadier and truer game than his opponent. His baseline playing and high bounding service were perfection. Eklund could not fathom the peculiar break of the ball and either netted it or sent it out of bounds.

With Major a winner of the cup this year, the trophy goes away from Oahu for a year at least. No doubt he will be back again next season as Hilo's representative in the 1914 tennis championship tournament.

CHINESE NEWS INCENSES JAPAN

Unwarranted Assault Upon Japanese Office at Hankow by Chinese Federals Stirs the Nation and Is Being Looked Upon by Public as a National Insult.

TOKIO, August 29.—(Special Cable to The Nippo Jiji.)—According to official despatches received here today, a Japanese army officer, on duty with his troop at Hankow, in the Province of Hupeh, China, has been wantonly insulted and attacked by federal Chinese soldiers. He received a series of wounds as a result of the violence offered him.

The receipt of this startling news stirred all of Tokio, the officials as well as the general public being incensed. The foreign office got into immediate communication with Minister Enjiro Yamaza, the Japanese representative at Peking, and an immediate explanation of the outrage, if the reports received could be substantiated, was ordered. Every one of the leading papers in Tokio and Osaka today published leading articles couched in emphatic language, urging the government to demand an apology from Peking and to insist upon an indemnity, as well as upon the arrest and execution of those soldiers who took part in the assault upon the Japanese uniform. The nation is indignant over the affair.

The despatches state that, while in the performance of his duty, Second Lieutenant Nishimura, one of the officers attached to the Japanese regiment stationed at the great river port of the Yangtze River to protect the lives and property of the Japanese residents there, was met on the street by a detachment of Chinese federals in uniform. Without provocation the Chinese began to hussle the Japanese officer, and, when he resisted this, struck him a number of times.

This incident is taken by Japan as an insult to the nation and to the Japanese army and Minister Yamaza has received instructions to present a formal protest against the uncivilized acts of the Hankow troops. The reply of the Chinese government is being awaited with profound interest.
